Volume 7, No. 45

We shall remember them

Elk Point and district will remember those who gave their lives in the service of their country during the two World Wars and the Korean War with a parade, wreath-laying ceremony and interdenominational worship service on Saturday, November 11.

The parade, made up of the representatives of clubs and organizations, will form at 10:30 a.m. along the south side of the Elk Point Co-op Store, and will travel north on 50 Street to 50 Avenue. Turning west, the parade will proceed past the Post Office, where the marchers will be reviewed by representatives of local, municipal, provincial and federal governments and the Royal Canadian Legion, and will turn south on 51 Street, arriving at the Cenotaph shortly before 11:00 a.m.

Following the 11:00 a.m. silence and the wreath laying ceremony, an interdenominational worship service will be held in the Pioneer Circle Hall, immediately north of the Cenotaph.

Grey confident PM will accept Alberta's choice

Beaver River MP Deborah Grey has every confidence Stan Waters will assume his rightful place in the Canadian Senate. She believes Prime Minister Brian Mulroney has little alternative other than to accept Alberta's choice.

Waters was elected with a resounding victory on Oct. 16, with Alberta making political history for going ahead with the first ever election for a Canadian Senator.

Grey said she has no reason to believe Mulroney won't accept Alberta's decision, but said Albertans will probably have to wait about a month before any nod of approval is forthcoming from Ottawa.

"I think we'll hear within a month but after that, if there's no word, Albertans are going to start getting awfully riled."

In the House of Commons on Oct. 18, Grey wasted no time in serving notice to the government of the results of Alberta's Senate election and of its importance.

"I urge the Prime Minister to join in this movement by confirming without delay, Stan Waters' election to the Senate of Canada. This is a minimum test of his willingness to listen to Alberta. Other tests will come later, as Albertans wait for action on the constitutional and fiscal policies on which they have sent a clear message.

"Mr. Speaker, make no mistake, if the Prime Minister and his party ignore this election, they will make Mr. Waters a symbol, and it will be my party that benefits. If they accept this election and act, Mr. Waters will be a Senator and we will all gain."

In a letter to Mulroney announcing the results of the Senate vote, Premier Don Getty urged the Prime Minister to "seize this historic opportunity and demonstrate your commitment to both Senate Reform and to the choice of Albertans."

While he urged the appointment of Waters, Getty also included the list of all the candidates who ran in the election.

"Alberta is convinced that in our democratic system of government, it is the people who should decide who will represent them in the two Houses of Parliament," Getty wrote.

First Winners For Westmin Trophy

Chamber of Commerce

Extravaganza plans progressing slowly

Plans for the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce annual Christmas Extravaganza progressed only slightly at last Wednesday's meeting, as too few members of the retail business community were present to make any major decisions. It is hoped that next week's meeting will have better attendance by the business owners so that plans can be finalized.

Elk Point Light Horse Club has offered to provide horse-drawn hay rides during the Extravaganza, with sleighs to transport Santa Claus available with both runners and wheels, depending on weather conditions.

Concern was expressed that a twelve hour period for the event may be too long, but it was noted that the downtown entertainment and activities would not necessarily be spread over that length of time. Only the shopping spree itself would cover all twelve hours, with that period of time allotted to making the purchases recorded on the contest entry sheet, for the prize draws at 9:00 p.m.. The morning activities would include the Lioness pancake breakfast, while during the early afternoon, youngsters could attend the Elks and Lions-sponsored free movie. Entertainment, hay rides, the bonfire and other activities would be concentrated in the last five or six hours of the event.

All retail business people are urged to attend the November 15 meeting and give their input for Extravaganza plans. Christmas shopping hours will also be decided at that meeting.

Frank Mayner of the Fort George-Buckingham House Advisory Board reported to Chamber on the Board's recent meeting with Minister of Culture Doug Main. Minister of Tourism Don Sparrow, Minister of Agriculture Ernie Isley and MLA John Drobot were also on hand to hear the presentation by Mayner, Sid Holthe and Ed Buck. Mayner felt it was auspicious to have all three ministers discussing the ramifications of the Fort development project, and said that the Board's update was well received. While no promises for further funding were made, the ministers did suggest that the Board start thinking of ways to defray operating costs of the project if major reconstruction were to take place.

Also with a view to bringing more tourists to the Elk Point area, the Chamber agreed to split the cost of a full page in the Lakeland Tourist Association's 1990 publication, 'Discover the Lakeland.'

Grand Re-Opening

UFA celebrates grand opening

By Irene Magnusson

Proud participants in the Elk Point UFA Petroleum Agency's Grand Opening gathered in their newly renovated shop and office on October 24, with shelves of bargains and coffee and doughnuts for their many customers, who dropped in to see the bright new colors, new-look office and freshly painted outdoor areas.

Elk Point agents Ed and Ruth Vogel were joined by son Dwayne, UFA Territory Manager Doug Lindquist, and staff members Ruby Babcock and Chris Havener in welcoming everyone to the Grand Opening. Lindquist commenced his career with United Farmers of Alberta Petroleum Division as agent at this same station, while Dwayne and his siblings have all had experience working as part-time employees at the station.

Winner of the $100 Free Gas certificate, drawn for at 5:00 p.m., was Margaret White of Elk Point. Congratulations!

Heinsburg visitors attend Historical Society meeting

By Irene Magnusson

The E. P. Historical Society met at the Library October 26, with the usual too few members, eight only, being present. Chairman Frank Mayner distributed the minutes, which were read and accepted. There was no treasurer's report, although pins are on order, and the tape of the progression of the Elk Point Bridges has been approved and finished.

This tape was viewed by the group, following the meeting; a most interesting review of the construction of the first bridge in 1949-50, following years of ferry use, with shots of the 'cage' and some disastrous winter ice crossings. The additional footage of the building and opening of the 'new' bridge has been added, as well as the dismantling and removal of the old one - all history of vital importance to the Elk Point area. Mike O'Neill is to be congratulated on the thought and work put into this effort.

A delegation from Heinsburg, consisting of Bob Smith and Sandra

Bishop, addressed the group, looking toward support for their project, which entails the restoration and preservation of the CNR water-tower, which is in Heinsburg, and the area around it to be used as an historical park. They would also like to add the old Railway Station into the park.

A history of its construction, date, usage, etc., will be compiled, and possible application of the site to be a Registered Historical Site will be requested. Some work has been done in the immediate area. The society approves of this action.

Comments on the Mural Park listed suggestions to put up some signs; to install 'audio posts' (taped information) and writing of a brochure.

A meeting with the Minister of Culture in October is planned, with discussion of the Forts Sites work and financing of same on the agenda.

An attempt was made to form a "Bicentennial Committee", to spearhead the forthcoming celebration of the two hundred years since the coming of the fur traders to the present Elk Point area. It was felt that all members should be involved and input gathered from all. Larry Demchuk and Gail Kozicky, together with Frank Mayner, will be the committee for the present, representing the Society.

Frank Mayner suggested that a start will be made next year on a Visitors' Centre at the Forts Site, and an effort will be made to encourage the Dept. of Transport to consider making a start on the reconstruction of the road leading to the Sites.

The group finds it difficult to proceed with plans when attendance is so low - several reasons for this were suggested - but more active participation is definitely needed.

Sales of pins was reported going well, and more will be ordered. Sid Holthe set up the VCR and the group then watched the video. This video will be available for viewing at the Library in the future.

Congratulations, Bruns & Bates

Congratulations are in order for two local residents this week.

Radio LW morning man Dave Bruns, who raises sheep in the Elk Point area, was the winner of the Intermediate Sheep Shearing Competition at Northlands Farmfair. Bruns placed second in the event last year.

Congratulations also to Kevin Bates, who took the trophy for Best Offensive Back at the St. Paul Regional Lions Football Awards Monday night, and who was called 'the kind of quarterback reporters love to write about...best in the league by a country mile' in the St. Paul Journal's coverage of that event.

Challenge cup for seniors

Members of the Alberta Senior Citizens' Sports and Recreation Association in Zone 7 have something new to aim for in future competitions. Allan Frankiw, Manager of Operations at Westmin Resources, Elk Point, attended a meeting of the Association in Elk Point on October 25, and presented Zone President Allan Barker with a handsome challenge cup for Zone activities.

Zone 7 covers the area from Fort McMurray and Cold Lake in the north to Tofield at the southwest corner, then eastward along Highway 14 to the Saskatchewan border.

The cup was put to use just ten short days after the presentation, when a zone-wide competition in floor curling was hosted by St. Paul Seniors Centre. An Elk Point team earned the privilege of being the first to display the trophy in their local seniors' centre, with Anita Balas, Morris Cooper, Mike Palinka and Helga Vaughan winning all their games in the 12 team bonspiel. They now have undisputed right to the cup for 10 days, after which challengers in any activity common to both centres may contact coordinator Mary Kossey at 645-2461 to arrange a match, and try to win the cup away from Elk Point.

Continued competitions accompanied by socializing will be enjoyed by seniors all over the Zone as the cup travels from centre to centre in answer to challenges. There are approximately 50 seniors' centres in Zone 7.

The Senior Citizens Sport and Recreation Association was formed in 1980 to promote sport and recreation development for seniors 55 and over across the province, and acts on behalf of seniors to ensure input and participation in the Alberta Winter and Summer Games. Seniors are involved in such activities as bowling, golf, curling, cribbage, cross country skiing, horse shoes and lawn bowling, as well as cultural events such as writing, photography, music and handicrafts at a competitive level in the Winter and Summer Games.

The Association helps to develop leadership, organization and participation skills, while considering the special needs of seniors, and endeavours to develop equal opportunities for all seniors regardless of age, sex, ability or handicaps. The Association works to ensure adequate resources in the form of communication, clinics and conferences, acts as the provincial voice of seniors, and ensures continuous funding for seniors' recreational activities.

Gold To Go For...

A handsome trophy donated by Westmin Resources to Alberta Senior Citizens Sport and Recreation Association Zone 7 and presented by Allan Frankiw of Westmin to Zone President Allan Barker will be the focus of a series of sport and recreational activity challenges between senior citizens' centres throughout the Zone.

Editorial

In memoriam

For two minutes this coming Saturday, Canadians will pause, if they think about it, to pay tribute to the men and women who gave their lives for Canada's freedom in the two World Wars and the Korean War. Two minutes of silence per year, and maybe a dollar for a poppy, is all we give to their memory—how can that be enough to express our gratitude to all those who fought and died in the service of their country?

For more than thirty years, the world has been at relative peace, although skirmishes and conflicts continue to rage on short-term bases, as they have since history began. Canada's role during this time has generally been to send peace-keeping forces to the countries affected by these uprisings, once the battles have ended.

Yes, it's a long time since that first Armistice Day, back on November 11, 1918, when bone-chilled soldiers crawled gratefully from their muddy trenches when World War I was finally declared over. It's a long time since VE Day, and VJ Day, and the good news that 'our boys' were coming home after the long seasons of conflict on land, on sea, and in air that filled six years with fear at home and horror abroad in World War II. It's even a long time since Canada sent her forces to help with the bloody battles in Korea.

The long reign of peace has allowed older Canadians to forget the tragic days of war, while an ever-increasing percentage of our population has never known the bleak uncertainty of waiting for news of a loved one who is fighting in another land.

Still, we must not forget that this peace we enjoy was hard won, and was accomplished at the cost of many lives. We must remember them.

Lioness Draw Winner...

Paul Stepa, this month's winner of $300 cash in the Lioness Trip of the Month Club, is congratulated by Holly Astilli. Ruth Nielsen was the lucky winner of the trip to Las Vegas, valued at $758, while Monique and Steve Penz won $50. Tickets for the 1990 draws are now on sale from Lioness members.

Concerts in Bonnyville

By Sheila Thompson

The 1989-90 Bonnyville Fine Arts season begins Sun., November 12 with a concert by classical guitarist, Don Ross. The concert will be at 2:00 at the Lyle Victor Albert Centre. Don has delighted previous Lakeland audiences with both solo concerts and playing with the Harbours Trio. His career is based in Toronto, where he has produced several albums. Don Ross has spent a great deal of time in the Lakeland. In fact, his first recording was entitled Kebewin. Cuts from this and his other albums can be heard on CKUA.

The second concert in the series will be Sunday, February 25, 2:00 p.m., featuring Paul Klopstock, classical pianist from Montreal. Having performed two previous concerts in Bonnyville, Paul is back by popular demand. He is the brother of long-time Elk Point resident, Kay Klopstock.

Eliyahu Tausig will be playing a concert on Saturday, March 10 at 8:00. He is a pianist in the tradition of comedian, Victor Borge. This concert promises to be very entertaining.

The 1989-90 season closes with the fourth annual concert by the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra. They will be playing Tuesday, May 15 at 7:30. Get your tickets early as this is always a sell-out.

Season's tickets to all four concerts can be purchased, as well as for individual concerts. For more information, call Ann Bataillard at 826-2644.

4-H looks good

Hello, 4-Hers, and best wishes for another successful 4-H Week! How proud you all must be to be part of this huge and continually growing organization which helps young people from all walks of life to grow as individuals as they learn to do by doing.

A first year member who starts out a little reluctantly, a bit afraid of her calf, or not quite sure what to do with his woodworking tools, or wondering if she will ever cook anything edible, or scarcely knowing his bride from his cinch, and ends up with an ear-to-ear grin, excitedly clutching a trophy on Achievement Day, knows that pride.

A parent who has despaired at ever getting a lazy kid away from the television, and out for fresh air, and then sees that same kid getting up before daylight to feed a calf before school, or volunteering to be a junior counsellor at summer camp, knows that pride.

A community which has supported 4-H for years and years, and finally has its 4-H members bring home two interclub championships in one year, knows that pride.

A leader who has taken a rueful look at a group of shy, restless, rambunctious kids at the first meeting of the year, and then sees them acting as a cohesive unit to put on a fine display on Achievement Day, knows that pride.

Time to re-think?

By Irene Magnusson

Another high speed Police chase. Another tragic and unnecessary highway death. And you may think I am going to go into the too prevalent tune of blaming the police. Wrong.

Everytime one of these horrible events occur, there is a great outcry against the police. Why did they give chase? Why did they attempt to stop the driver — who was probably only speeding, or wig-wagging, or had no lights, or passing on the wrong side, etc., etc. Certainly not crimes worth killing him for. And VERY certainly not crimes worth killing innocent persons travelling on the roadway.

Yeah, As I am very sure every single policeman on the road knows very well. The other side of the coin is: what do we have police for? In my opinion, we have them to protect the general public, to uphold our laws (stupid as some of them are) and to PREVENT injury, in as much as is possible, to the public.

In these times of almost hectic use of illegal drugs and substances, and the almost universal addiction to the swilling of untold quantities of booze, we probably do take our lives in our hands any time we go out on the public highways. The police are charged with the task of protecting us, to the best of their ability, from these road hazards, these drivers who would add their brains, and then grab a steering wheel. Then there are the mechanical ails that any vehicle may fall into, sometimes without the driver being aware, such as rear or signal lights failing, truck loads coming loose, etc. Police have been known to warn drivers of unusual road conditions, of accidents ahead again, etc.

Drivers are prone to travelling at the top of the speed limit, and very often, a little more. Just the other day, I drove to St. Paul, about twenty miles, setting my cruise control at the speed limit. EXACTLY. Every vehicle that came up behind me, six or seven, passed me. What speed were they travelling? Yet, I'm sure if anyone had stopped them, they would have denied speeding. What is speeding? I interpret that as 'going over the speed limit' AND 'travelling faster than road conditions and/or traffic can allow'.

So if a traffic policeman observes a vehicle going over the speed limit, or weaving, or with some visible mechanical ailment, it is his or her duty to check this out, usually by requesting the driver to stop, to either warn, or advise, or — if necessary — detain that driver.

Why would any driver refuse to stop, when requested or signalled to do so by a policeman? You guessed it. Something to hide. Almost certainly that driver is breaking the law, or thinks he is, or has some illicit or illegal substance on board, some guilty knowledge that makes him, or her, pick up speed instead of pulling over, and answering the policeman's concerns.

I suppose there are times when a police car is camouflaged and not really recognizable by the driver. Then I also suppose there is some other way the law enforcer will identify him/herself. There is absolutely no excuse for a law-abiding citizen to pick up speed and rear off down the road, when a police vehicle signals you to 'pull over'. You should be allowed to lock your doors, and wait for the officer to identify himself fully, which could be done, I'd think, with a one-inch window opening — just in case it's your jealous ex-boyfriend in disguise.

Then, if you've been speeding, take your medicine like a man/woman, not try to slink off like a sniveling crook. Or should I say 'speed off'?

And maybe kill someone, or injure them. And it could be you.

Another aspect of these injuries and fatalities, as reported in the media, all too often the injured party is NOT WEARING SEATBELTS.

I wonder how that fellow who challenged the law makers of our province, (and the moronic judge who ruled), and was able to scare the 'wear seat belts' rule passed a few years ago by the ploddingly slow MHA's into oblivion — I wonder how they feel when they hear, over and over, "the victims of the accident were NOT wearing their seatbelts." How many persons have lost their lives or suffered endless pain and loss, because of that cancelled rule? (Forget about the years of death and destruction, as the rulers fiddled around deciding whether Albertan lives were worth saving or not).

Now, I know, there are some persons who will not have wit enough to wear their seat belts, even if it is the law. But I think the vast majority would 'Buckle Up' if the law said so, and they knew the penalty would be quite a few dollars out of their pocket. I know a nice fellow, Rash, who doesn't wear his belt because 'I have a hold of the wheel that keeps me from getting hurt, if I'm in an accident.' A sad little ha ha on the dotted line.

So, do leave the traffic police to carry on their duty, in pursuit of criminals, boozers, dopers, creepy vehicles, and speeders. And if you want to cut down on the mayhem of the road, try obeying the law a little more carefully. Like stopping when signalled to do so.

I wonder, if police had a very strong camera mounted on their dash, that would photograph the speeder ahead in particular the license plate, so there would be no doubt of identity, if then they could let the speeding vehicle go, while they radioed ahead to other officers who could then try to stop the fugitive from in front? Maybe that would cut down on the big speed chases, but I have a sneaky suspicion that many of those chases are instigated by pure thrill seekers, persons who do not — or cannot — think beyond the moment who get a big charge out of racing off through the night, thinking they are big shots by eluding the police. I'm afraid I don't want that type at large, either.

It's funny, how this so-called 'Constitution' or 'Bill of Rights' only works to prevent seat belt legislation in Alberta, yet not in Saskatchewan, B.C., N.W.T., Ontario, and other provinces. Only in Alberta, you say? Hm-mm-mm... Methinks there's a screw loose somewhere, Pity!

Long Service...

Violet McFadyen of Elk Point was honored for over 34 years of service to the Canadian Red Cross, with the presentation of a Long Service Citation and pin.

Handicrafts and Home Baking...

The Red Cross Fall Tea again featured a variety of crafts and baked goods, as well as a good selection of white elephant items.

Red Cross hold successful tea

By Irene Magnusson

Friday afternoon, October 27, saw a good turnout of customers come out to enjoy the Red Cross Bazaar, White Elephant and Bake Sale, at the United Church Hall, in Elk Point, and to enjoy a pleasant hour with friends while munching snacks with tea or coffee.

The donations offered for sale were down a bit from some years, but sales were brisk, and a good return was counted up.

Violet McFadyen, Chairman of the Elk Point Branch, reported results as follows: Bake Table, looked after by Iryne Buck and Mary Moorehead - $72.30; Tea Tables, supervised by Ellen Seward and Bev Peterson - $89.25; Handicrafts, Violet McFadyen and Audrey Lorenson in charge - $357.20; White Elephant Table, Anne Buck and Irene Magnusson presiding - $49.75. In addition, donations of $44.00 were received for a total of $612.50, all of which will go toward Red Cross work in the province or beyond.

The Handicrafts includes sale of five quilts, all created by the group since January 1st, 1989. There are still some quilts, afghans, baby sets, etc., on hand, at the McFadyen home, and may be purchased by contacting Mrs. McFadyen - fairly soon - as remaining articles are later shipped to Red Cross Head Office for disposal there.

Elk Point Red Cross Branch sincerely thanks Helen Pelech and Florence McGinnis, who looked after the kitchen details; the United Church for use of their premises; Myrna Fox for making all the posters; and all the ladies who helped in any way to make this event come about, and especially the customers, whose patronage is the necessary ingredient for success. Thank You all.

McFadyen honored at "Focus '89"

By Margaret Modin

200 delegates gathered at the Jasper Place Lodge in Jasper, Alberta. They were there, courtesy of C.P. Railways, Wild Rose Foundation of Alberta, Greyhound, Canada, T.D. Bank; Calgary Police Force; Cal-Oka Printing, and Interprovincial Pipe Lines.

The purpose - to re-vitalize the older delegate and to train the Youth present in the Fundamental purposes of Red Cross and the need for Financial accountability to carry on these activities. This goal was met in a two-day Seminar which was very intensive in its agenda, but very inspirational to those present. Highlight for Elk Point and Area Red Cross came at the Dinner on Saturday, October 28, when Violet McFadyen of Elk Point was honored by the President of the Alberta-N.W.T. Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society. Violet was presented with a Long Service Citation and pin.

Violet became interested in Red Cross activities at a very early age, she began her association at the age of 9 when she became a Junior Red Cross member, and during her school years served as president of the group. She became involved with the Senior Red Cross some years later in life and has over 34 years to her credit, during which time she has served in many capacities. She sews, crochets and quilts up a storm every year as well as having served as President of the Elk Point Branch for a number of years and she has been the Campaign Manager for the Area for eight years. She puts in over 300 volunteer hours per year - not bad for a Senior Citizen who is also involved in many other volunteer projects in her community. Many thanks to you Violet for your faithfulness!

Rec news

By Stephen Montgomery

Once again, the Recreation Office is organizing transportation to the youth swimming lessons offered at the St. Paul Aquatic Centre. The next session begins on November 13 and continues until December 13. Lessons are on Monday and Wednesday in the grey/white and blue/green levels. For more information or to register, phone the office at 724-4409. I am also looking for a volunteer driver for the van on Mondays or Wednesdays.

The Rec Office is currently cooperating with the McArthur Dance Studio to offer dance instruction in Ballet and Jazz in Elk Point. Instruction for children aged 4 and up will be provided by Stanislaw Zajac, artistic director of the studio, who currently has successful programs operating in Bonnyville, Grand Centre and Provost. This is an exciting opportunity to have Jazz and Ballet dance instruction available in the community. Phone the Rec Office for more details. There will be an organizational and registration meeting in December for all those who are interested.

Any ladies interested in playing recreational basketball in the evening should let me know. If there is sufficient interest the FCSS gym is available Monday or Wednesday evenings.

Thank You

THERIAULT

We, the family of the late Norm Theriault, wish to express our sincere gratitude and appreciation to all our friends and relatives for their many acts of kindness during our recent bereavement. We gratefully appreciate all the flowers, cards, food, phone calls and donations made.

Our special thanks to Dave, Doug and Bruce of the Elk Point R.C.M.P. detachment and Dr. Estey and staff. Thank you Reverend Sam Donaldson, for your prayers and "words of wisdom". Also, thank you for going out with us to Westlock and Jarvie for the burial.

Thank you, Jim Hawkins, for sending the students to our home. Thank you "students" for helping the girls through their bereavement. Dave and Alice, thanks for all the movies you sent to help the hours to pass, and Ron and Sharon for the pizzas.

Lynn and Terry Roberts, thank you for dropping everything to come out and stay with us. Betty and Jack, thank you for all the extra "errands" you helped out with. Our profound thanks to Rick Peters for reading the Eulogy, also to the United Church choir and organist.

An extra special thanks to Jean Charlton for being by our sides the entire time and Dale Charlton for doing our chores.

Last, but not least a most sincere thanks to Bob Jones, Westlock Funeral Home Director, for all your assistance.

Our apologies if we missed mentioning anyone as there were many lovely kindnesses done, and they all meant a lot to us. Everyone's kindnesses will always be remembered in our hearts. "Thank You".

ACA forum in Cold Lake

By Irene Magnusson

Thursday, October 19, 1989, saw Region 2 of the Alberta Council on Aging (ACA) hosting a Forum on the advantages and problems of aging. Visitors were welcomed into the Cold Lake Kinooos Senior Citizens' Drop-In Centre, overlooking the sparkling waters of Cold Lake.

Sadie Buchan, of Cold Lake, chaired the meeting, recorded by Dorothy Brickett, Bonnyville. Arrangements were credited to President, Don McAllister, Cold Lake, and Marie Nicholls, of Grand Centre. Greetings from the area were extended by Mayor R. Coates, who pointed out that "Old age is a privilege denied to many," and an offering of "Good Luck!" to all.

Chris Lawrence, of ACA, urged seniors to "Speak up!" on their needs, problems and desires, to bring forward resolutions, etc., since 'seniors can't be fired,' and their decisions and resolutions will become the future agenda for ACA meetings. Mrs. Lawrence was available throughout the day to answer questions from the group.

Steve Fowler, of Alberta Housing and Mortgage Corporation, spoke on types of housing and the assistance seniors may receive in their needs. The three types of housing seniors are offered assistance with are 1) Units (apartments, lodges), 2) Assistance with rent, tax reduction, Home Improvement grants, and 3) the new concept of 'Granny Flats' - (where a mobile home may be placed on a family members' lot, for a senior's use.) This last plan is in the experimental stage, and problems are being experienced.

All these plans were discussed in detail, advantages and flaws pointed out, and the limitations set by law on the matter of seniors' housing, the emphasis being that this program is to help those most in need.

An extension of the Sr's. Home Owner's Grant may be available to home owners, and they were urged to seek additional information. This is to be available after Jan. 1, 1990.

Fowler pointed out that 75% of those in subsidized (seniors) housing were women; the average age is 75 years. Average age in Lodges is 82.

Many seniors are financially able to provide their own housing, but sometimes there is none suitable available. Seniors should no longer be regarded as always "Poor, Sick and Senile," and should perhaps demand better housing from the private sector. A list of the ten basic requirements of seniors' housing, area FCSS director, stressed the importance of accessibility (wheelchair ramps), especially to public buildings.

Following lunch, served in the hall, Allen Buck, Cold Lake/Grand Centre FCSS Director and Co-ordinator, spoke on the services available to seniors in the community, listing Homemakers' Services, Counselling, Handibus, Meals-on-Wheels, Caring Companions, among others. There is a need, he felt, for a Seniors' Co-ordinator; someone to help arrange things affecting seniors.

Diane Walker explained the so-called "Medic Alert", a device used by handicapped or ill persons, to call assistance from their home very easily. This operates through the telephone system, and could prove a lifesaver to an aged person. These devices are available through the Home Owners' Grant, on a once-only purchase, after Jan. 1, 1990.

Donna Densmore, of N.E. Alberta Health Unit, stated there are 750 persons receiving some form of Home Care in the NEAHU area (Smoky Lake to Cold Lake) which includes such services as Nursing Care, Physiotherapy, Home Makers, Equipment, Tests, Medications, and many other services. A program of palliative care is available to those needy.

Other seniors' needs being addressed are sports, learning programs, activities, beauty care, etc. There appears to be a need for more training in Gerontology (problems of old age) by service personnel, and this is being addressed.

Allen Buck, through FCSS, has applied for a Seniors' Co-ordinator, and expects a reply to this pioneer project in the coming months. This would be for paid workers, not volunteers, as it is felt volunteers could not be expected to offer the time required to do a satisfactory job.

Lynn Gillman spoke on the need and availability for Long Term Care, a concept of family and medical staff working together for the best interests of the patient, whether in the home, in Lodges, in Extended Care Units, Nursing Homes or Hospitals. She fielded a barrage of questions, proving the interest there is in the subject.

Colleen Hanley, of Lakeland College, outlined the changing roles of learning centres in the community, listing the many colleges, universities, etc. available to adults in Alberta. Learning is an on-going situation, not at all aimed only at the young. Seniors find many courses to participate in, interesting, fulfilling and useful. Students now are required to pay more of the costs, as funding is less available, and she urges seniors to 'demand services', if they are not fulfilled. The ElderHostel program was outlined.
